About ACVP

Integration...it is not a buzzword anymore. It is happening everywhere and the Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals (ACVP) further validates the positive impact and success of this strategy.

Representing all levels and all specialties involved in the cardiovascular arenas we are able to provide our members with the highest quality services, benefits and representation.

For more than 40 years, ACVP, through its predecessor organizations, has provided its members with a commitment to excellence, leadership in representation and leading information. We are dedicated to continuing this covenant to our members and to the profession.

You are invited to join more than 3,000 individuals including practitioners, managers and administrators with diverse backgrounds participating in invasive, noninvasive, echocardiography and cardiopulmonary healthcare. These professionals recognize their advantage through membership in ACVP. Contact the national office at (757)497-1225 for additional membership information and applications.

Ten Reasons to Join the Alliance

1. Reduce your in-house training costs
2. Satisfy Medicare medical review policies
3. Support continuing education of your staff
4. Meet the challenge of increasing technology
5. Meet accreditation, credentialing and JCAHO standards
6. Receive up-to-date information in cardiology in our publications
7. Network with administrators, practitioners and educators in cardiology
8. Obtain education and standards to meet the challenges of increasing and changing technology
9. Assist your staff to obtain professional credentials and demonstrate your institution's quality commitment
10. Access 2 national meetings per year, the ACVP Technical Symposium and the ACVP Management Conference, co-hosted with the American College of Cardiovascular Administrators (ACCA).

Become an Insitutional Member

ACVP recently incorporated a new class of membership - Institutional Members. These members are invited to participate in the Alliance and gain benefits geared specifically toward institutional needs. One of the primary benefits is preferred consideration when scheduling educational sessions and exam reviews.

Institutional benefits include:

- Your staff is entitled to join the ACVP with a discounted annual investment or no investment at all when you join and schedule a review course or educational program. You also receive preferred scheduling.
- Your staff members will receive all individual membership benefits for all cardiovascular specialties (a $95/person value)
- One complimentary cardiovascular manager membership. This provides this manager with all the regular membership benefits.
- Access to a network of administrators, managers and educators, which provides a link for your employees to build a network of knowledge and new skills, continuing education and professional information.
- A personalized letter from the ACVP to your employees about your institutional membership and the membership benefits and educational opportunities available to them through the mail, the Internet, or for career advancement through long distance learning in cardiology.
- A listing for your institution on the ACVP website with a direct link to the services your institution offers.

Insitutional Membership Levels

All institutional memberships include a nominal fee for the individual membership of your staff. Levels are not related to the size of your staff, any level may be selected.

Bronze Membership Level: includes your institutional membership and a membership fee of $25.00 for up to 10 members of your staff and one cardiovascular manager membership complimentary.

Silver Membership Level: includes your institutional membership and a membership fee of $20.00 for 11-20 members of your staff, one complimentary ad of any type in our publications and complimentary membership for two cardiovascular managers.

Gold Membership Level: includes your institutional membership and a membership fee of $15.00 for 20-50 members of your staff, one complimentary ad of any type in our publications, complimentary membership for three cardiovascular managers and one complimentary registration to any of our review courses with one paid registration.

Platinum Membership Level: includes your institutional membership and a membership fee of $10.00 for 51+ members of your staff, two complimentary ads in our publications, membership of four cardiovascular managers, a listing with your logo on the ACVP website with a link to your institutions cardiovascular services and one complimentary registration to any of our credentialing reviews or educational sessions.

Obtain additional memberships complimentary for your cardiovascular managers. When you are an institutional member on any level, and your cardiovascular manager registers for the Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals (ACVP) /American College of Cardiovascular Administrators (ACCA) Annual Conference. Registration is easy on the ACVP website or by mail for this annual convention which precedes the American College of Cardiology Convention and is directed toward broadening your managers insight into program operation and systems management.

Additionally, if you join now and schedule an exam review, all of your staff members who choose to join will have their individual membership dues investment waived for their first year of membership. This provides an individual savings for them and an employee benefit for you!

About ACVP Courses

ACVP course reviews are based upon the national registry exams given by Cardiovascular Credentialing International (CCI). The instructors employed by ACVP have a proven track record in preparing professionals who wish to pass these exams successfully. The reviews are geared toward individuals who are ready to earn their credentials. CCI's examinations are endorsed by the American College of Cardiology (ACC).

ACVP is a recognized and a leading provider of CEU's for cardiovascular practitioners through our own Cardiovascular and Pulmonary (CaPCE) Continuing Education Program. Every 50 minutes of the program is entitled to 1 contact hour or .1 CEU. ACVP is also a licensed BRN provider in the state of California.

ACVP allows you to choose your date and time and offers reviews at a minimum of eight hours and schedules sessions at your convenience depending upon the availability of instructors. We do request however at least a four-week lead time in scheduling. This ensures you the lowest possible costs.

ACVP offers review courses in Basic Cardiovascular Sciences, Cardiographic Techniques (EKG monitoring and 12 Lead, Stress testing and Holter monitors), Cardiac Catheterization, Noninvasive procedures and Echocardiography. All classes are limited to 30 persons in order to guarantee the best instructor-student ratio possible. You are therefore encouraged to sign-up your staff members early. Special accommodations can be made for groups larger than 30, just contact our office.

ACVP Commitment

If you agree to host an exam review session at your institution, you are entitled to invite your staff at a reduced rate, regardless of membership in ACVP. Your responsibilities are limited: provide ACVP the space for teaching and coordinate the Audio/Visual requirements. ACVP meeting staff will take care of the rest with a referral from you to a preferred caterer and a recommendation on lodging in your area.

Our commitment extends to providing you with a quality review session, designed to help your staff pass the credentialing examinations or enhance their knowledge. Participants will walk away with the knowledge they obtained at the session and course materials to enhance the topics covered.

Review/Educational Session Fees

To schedule a review, simply call the ACVP office at (757)497-1225 or check your preference on the Institutional Application. The fee for an on-site examination review is $2,500 plus $100/attendee and no minimum up to 30. This covers the cost of instructor, catering and materials. If individuals attend without the benefit of institutional membership, the cost per review is $299/attendee with a minimum of 20 registrants.

Refunds, less a $35.00 processing fee, will be made for cancellations received within 10 working days of the course. No refund is made for cancellations received less than 10 working days before the course. All requests for refunds must be received in writing. All no shows will be billed.
