About the Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals... the only professional association catering exclusively to non-physician cardiovascular professionals. Our mission is to spread QUALITY cardiac-specific education and QUALITY team-based care. Here's how we approach that mission:

ACVP connects over 3000+ members and a network of 10,000+ cardiovascular professionals across the U.S., representing all levels—from entry-level technicians to leading cardiology directors in the field—and across all cardiovascular specialties.

ACVP sponsors and facilitates 20+ live, regional educational conferences providing excellent and uniquely cardiac-specific and interprofessional education for professionals, offering CE credits for CVTs, RTs and RNs. We also offer a simple application for CEs for all non-physician professionals in one place through our CAPCE program.

We hear from many professionals that our offerings are one-of-a-kind and very much appreciated—especially for RTs and RNs seeking cardiac education programs.

Beyond education, our experienced executive staff regularly supports advocacy efforts promoting quality team-based care in cardiac services at Local, State and Federal levels. Most recently, we have supported efforts to protect team-based care in California, New Hampshire, and Maryland.

ACVP also publishes a member-driven and peer-reviewed magazine, CV Directions, which is the only magazine of its kind for and by non-physicians and administrators in cardiovascular care.

Through CV Directions, ACVP Fellowship, Mentorship, our CONNETWORK program, and more, we facilitate myriad opportunities for the personal and professional advancement and recognition of our individual and institutional members.

Ultimately, all of our work supports the provision of quality cardiac services for the cardiac patient and the recognition of the outstanding non-physician professionals who work hard to save lives and further the field every day.

Membership in the ACVP significantly supports all of these activities and our mission. Support ACVP and your organization!
