

ACVP Regional Conferences

The Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals provides continuing education to support its mission to support non-physician professionals in cardiology and to advance quality in cardiovascular care.

CARDIAC-SPECIFIC EDUCATION. We've heard from our members it can be difficult to find quality cardiac-specific education, especially for nurses and radiologic technologists in cardiac care. That's why we bring excellent, cardiac-specific education to you. If you are a nurse, technologist, manager, administrator, or work anywhere in cardiovascular services, this program is for you!

All ACVP conferences provide continuing education credits for nurses and technologists—RNs, RTs and cardiovascular technologists (e.g. RCIS). Continuing education certificates will be awarded for meeting participants following receipt of proof of sign-in and activity evaluations.

Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals

PO Box 2007
Midlothian, VA 23113

Ph 804.639.9213
Fx 804.639.9212

WWW.ACPV-ONLINE.ORG

CARDIOLOGY
CONTINUING EDUCATION

9th Annual Boston Cardiovascular Symposium

May 2, 2020

SATURDAY, 7:00AM-3:00PM

LIVE & LOCAL, LOW- or NO-COST continuing education—SATURDAY, MAY 2—ST. ELIZABETH'S MEDICAL CENTER hosts an ACVP Regional Cardio Conference in BOSTON, MA.

NURSES & TECHNOLOGISTS—CVTs, RTs, RNs in all cardiac specialties earn CEs.

St. Elizabeth's Medical Center

736 Cambridge Street

Boston, MA 02135

Seton Auditorium, 4th Floor

Program Schedule & Sessions

Preliminary Schedule for the 9th Annual 2020 Boston Cardiovascular Symposium

6:45am

Registration & Continental Breakfast

7:15am

The Art of PFO Closure

Joseph Carrozza, MD

8:15am

Cardiology Program

Jon Gardner and
Jeanne Kelly, RN, MSN

9:15am

Radiation Protection: Minimizing Personnel Readings

Satish Nair, PhD

10:15am

Break

10:30am

Role of Echo Imaging Before & After TAVR

Michael Maysky, MD

11:30am

Atrial Appendage Occlusion

Jack Wylie, MD

12:30pm

Lunch

1:00pm

Optimizing Documentation in the Cath Lab

Peggy McElgunn, Esq.

2:00pm

Cardiac Rehab and the Importance of Preventive Cardiology

Uyen Lam, MD

The Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals (ACVP) represents more than 3,000 professionals serving in all areas of cardiovascular care. ACVP's strength lies in the fact that we have combined all of the cv specialties and disciplines. This diversity provides a rich resource for learning, networking, and a strong voice in the field.

ACVP offers unique benefits because of collaboration and support possible through this network. Membership is open to all professionals working in the cardiovascular arena. Benefits of membership include publications, 200+ continuing education hours available including online access to free CEs, networking, recognition, representation and more.

ACVP is a unique catalyst for advancement. Information and learning takes a leap forward with ACVP. If you are a leader, if you want to be a leader, if you are committed to your career or you just want to stay ahead of the curve, join ACVP today!

Registration & Fees

2020 Boston Cardio Symposium Registration

Name: _____

Org: _____

Title: _____

Email: _____

Address: _____

City: _____

State/Zip: _____

Your Credentials

RCIS RCVT RN RT

Other _____

Fees

Meeting ACVP Active $10 Non-ACVP Member $25 Host Team Member $0

Membership Options

A special offer for attendees, join ACVP at a deeply discounted rate of only $45 (normally $105!), which includes attendance at the meeting for non-host professionals.

ACVP Membership $45

Payment Information

Check CC (MC/Visa/Amex) Bill me

Name: _____

CC#: _____

Exp. Date: _____

Billing Address: _____

SEND YOUR REGISTRATION TO:
BOSTON Cardio Symposium - PO Box 2007
Midlothian, VA 23113
or fax: 804.639.9212

register online @ www.acp-online.org/events