

The Alliance of Cardiovascular Professionals provides continuing education to support its mission to support non-physician professionals in cardiology and to advance quality in cardiovascular care.

CARDIAC-SPECIFIC EDUCATION. We've heard from our members it can be difficult to find quality cardiac-specific education, especially for nurses and radiologic technologists in cardiac care. That's why we bring excellent, cardiac-specific education to you. If you are a nurse, technologist, manager, administrator, or work anywhere in cardiovascular services, this program is for you!

All ACVP conferences provide continuing education credits for nurses and technologists-RNs, RTs and cardiovascular technologists (e.g. RCIS). Continuing education certificates will be awarded for meeting participants following receipt of proof of sign-in and activity evaluations.
