

"HEART & SOUL" CARDIOVASCULAR PROFESSIONALS WEEK

FEBRUARY 13-19, 2022

Healthcare professionals have carried the additional burden of COVID-19 through 2020 and 2021 while continuing to provide outstanding and compassionate care.

Cardiovascular professionals, specifically, have demonstrated an enormously compassionate commitment to delivering emergent and routine care for the most vulnerable and intensive populations in the health care system.

Truly, cardiovascular professionals give their heart and soul to their work healing the hearts of individuals, families and communities.

What can be achieved by modern cardiovascular care is nothing short of amazing, and it wouldn't be possible without the many diverse professionals—not only the doctors but also the technologists and nurses providing crucial support and ensuring quick, safe, accurate and compassionate care.

February 13-19, 2022 is their week.

Cardiovascular Professionals
give their heart & soul... heal the hearts of individuals, families & communities... go above & beyond... promote & protect patient safety... save lives each & every day.

They care for you. This week, show you care for them.
